New Cabinet Formed by Sir Stanley Argyle Headed by Himself

MELBOURNE, Victoria, May 18.—The Labor government of Premier H. V. Hughes, which had served this Australian state for the past three years resigned to-day as a result of Saturday's general election which swept away its majority in the House of Assembly.

Sir Stanley Argyle, leader of the United Australian party which won a sweeping victory in the polls, immediately announced formation of a new cabinet which he will head.

Police Court

Stated before Magistrate Col. George B. McLeod two weeks ago for not having a driver's license, John Koway, truck driver, was fined $20 in addition to the costs of the case.

Suspended sentence and strict warning was the lot of Alex. T. Brown, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of carrying the wrong kind of gun on his car. He was a tale of a trade, from an out of town merchant who carried on such a trade.

Adjournment for a week during the time investigation was made into the alleged wholesale bootlegging of automobile licensees, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of carrying the wrong kind of gun on his car. He was a tale of a trade, from an out of town merchant who carried on such a trade.

Sea Heroes

Two months ago "Boys" Knight, Second Officer of the Montclair, new in port, "rescued" a fifteen crew of eight volunteers for four hours through stormy seas to rescue the crew of the leaking liner in difficulties near Sable Island. Sable Island, on the part of the convulsion and heavy efforts of the men effected the rescue of 33 men and a dog.

A week ago, longer-tied and embarrassed, Second Officer Knight and his crew lined up on the deck of the Montclair while the Lord Mayor of Southampton presented awards from Shipwreck and Human Societies and read illuminated addresses.

Passengers recorded the scene and the picture below, shows the Lord Mayor of Southampton, Captain A. R. Knight, Mr. H. Knight (holding cup) and the boat crew. Lady Rensburgh and Sir George MacLaren Brown, European General Manager of the Canadian Pacific were present at the ceremony.

PEAC HOPE FOR STRIKE MINERS' AREA GROWING

New Union Under Difficulties Formed to Re-open Crew's Nest

COLEMAN, Alta., May 18.—A new union of Alberta coal miners who staged a battle in the Alberta coal fields received a rough lift. Three men were arrested today as a result of the melee which developed at a meeting of the miners last night and a new local mine workers' organization, headed by two former officers of the Mine Workers' union of Canada, is in existence.

Creation of the new organization may mean the end of the strike which has paralyzed operations in the Crow's Nest coal district for 11 weeks. The mine operators had refused to deal with the Mine Workers' union on the ground it was Communist. Last week strikers voted to go back to work on the basis of an expired agreement originally made with the G. M. and William White, chosen last night as provisional president and secretary of the new union.

The battle last night was between those who favored continuance of the old agreement and formation of a new union, and those who favored continuance of the strike and support of the Mine Workers' union of Canada.

The hall was called to stop the fracas. Chairs were thrown across the hall, the men engaged in hand to hand fights and almost every window in the building was broken.

Freedom on Bail for Peter Veregin Will Be Opposed by Government

DOUKHOBOR CHIEF APPEALS FROM VERDICT

Still in Jail at Prince Albert While Thousands Ask His Liberty

REGINA, Sask., May 18.—Freedom on bail for Peter Veregin will be opposed by the government. It was officially stated on Tuesday.

Monday, a delegation representative of various parts of the province, and one from British Columbia, asked for the release of Veregin; pleaded that the application for bail be not opposed.

Supporting the plea for freedom on bail the British Columbia delegation presented a petition purporting to be signed by more than 2,000 Doukhobors of the coast province.

Veregin is still in jail at Prince Albert pending the outcome of an appeal made against his conviction on a perjury charge and a three-year sentence to penitentiary.

The government was told that Veregin's personal attention to large business interests was necessary for the welfare of the Doukhobors in Canada.

Application for bail on Veregin's behalf has been temporarily delayed until such time as the charges of the trial judge arise in the city. Percy Hodgson, K.C., counsel for Veregin, intimated that the required data might be available Wednesday in which case application will be made before Chief Justice Sir Frederick Haultain. H. E. Somers, K.C., will appear in behalf of the crown when the application is presented.

Pope Takes Lesson

Pope Pius XI is shown as he was given a practical demonstration of wireless at Vatican City by Sir Marconi, world-famous scientist-statesman, and known as the "Father of Wireless."

If there had been better co-operation between the central banks of London, Paris and New York, the Great Britain boom could have been checked more easily and earlier and with less dire results. Great Britain could have remained on the standard of gold and the bank failures in the United States, Germany and France would have been avoided. But there was lack of such co-operation until too late. And, despite the continuance of the depression, there is still very meager co-operation.

The idea in the public mind, widely held in all countries, is that booms and slumps in trade are uncontrollable and are acts of God, like bad weather and earthquakes or the tides of the oceans. These slumps and booms, however, depend on the price level—the prices which commodities command in the world markets, which in their turn determine international trade conditions. The most sensitive prices are those from primary commodities, the products of the land, mines and forests. If prices fall, the producers of primary commodities are unable to purchase manufactured goods. Furthermore with a falling price level for raw materials, the manufacturers themselves are afraid to purchase more than for their day-to-day needs.

Today the wheat, cotton and tobacco farmers in the United States are saddled with debts and mortgages contracted when their products were worth three times as much in gold dollars as they are today. It therefore needs three times the amount of crop to meet the same interest charges on a debt or mortgage. We here see the phenomenon of the iron dollar and the elastic goods; that is, debts remain at the same value in gold but the goods with which they are paid have fallen steeply to a fraction of their value.

This fall in the price level is not determined at the older generation of economists taught by the laws of the supply and demand, but by the volume of money and credit actually in circulation. It has been proved statistically without any possibility of refutation, that throughout the last fifty years the price level in the United States has been directly dependent upon the ratio between volume of credit and volume of trade. When trade was increasing with greater productivity and new inventions, and when bank credits were made easy, prices rose and booms followed. When credit was restricted—remember always that productivity has steadily increased throughout the world during the last fifty years—prices fell. When credit, which is the modern currency of commerce, was scarce, prices fell and the depression for the expansion of trade, prices remained steady.

In passing let it be noted that coins, paper money, bank notes and so forth are only the small change, the till money of industry and commerce. It is the larger transactions—more actually payable; bills of exchange or bank checks—are tendered in payment.

It is bank credit that matters today, and it is bank credit that has been restricted in Great Britain since 1919 and in the United States since 1929. In each of the last three years in the United States bank credit have been contracted 20 to 25 per cent. It is any wonder then that the real estate market has collapsed, that agriculture is nearly ruined, that manufacturers have ceased production and that there are bread lines of unemployed in the cities? Is it any wonder that prices of all primary products, with the one exception of gold, have fallen so steeply? It is not obvious that the present monetary system is hopelessly out of gear and unsuitable for modern times.

It would be possible today for the Federal Reserve Bank to raise prices in the United States to the 1927 or 1929 level by buying securities to the extent of $200,000,000 or $500,000,000. This would make more funds available for the member banks, eight or ten times that amount could be given in credit or lent out to industry.

But this might weaken the dollar in the world markets. Fluctuating exchanges are another great hindrance to international trade. Yet if the central banks of all the leading financial and industrial nations decided to expand credit simultaneously, there would be no fluctuation or little fluctuation in the exchanges and world trade would revive. Better still, the exchanges could be pegged in relation to one another and fluctuations thereby avoided.

If prices rose too high by selling securities the central banks could restrict credits and check the boom. The ideal would be to keep prices steady to encourage the growth of production and to issue enough credits and currency

CALGARY PAIR WINNERS TWO PIANO SOLO

Mary Drummond and Sadie Chmelinsky, of Edmonton, Second

First consideration in giving a two piano solo was for the two soloists to be up the grade to start, therefore, declared Harold Kameel, famous British pianist, in giving his adjudication in the two piano class at the Alberta Musical Festival on Tuesday night.

An event won by Anna Keith and Sadie Chmelinsky of Calgary with 82 marks for the playing of Schubert's "Rondeau."

"And with a job in my voice," continued Mr. Kameel, "I implore you to give attention to the last line of a bar. It will help you to keep the rhythm."

Second place in this competition was won by Mary Drummond and Sadie Chmelinsky of this city, who scored 80 marks, while third place went to Evelyn Mosier, Red Deer, and Lily Curdell of Sylvan Lake.

Close competitors as provided in the open choir solo event, which brought Tuesday's proceedings to a close.

This event went to A. B. O'Riordan, Calgary, with a total of 79 out of 200 marks. He followed out of Irving Glash of this city who scored 168. Clement Schroeder was third with 165. Competitors sang two well contrasted songs of their own choice. In adjudicating Plummer Greene had much liberty and was given to the various contestants. He especially commended Mr. Glash's A-flat as a beautiful note which ought to be remembered as used as a base for his vocal work.

For the first time there appeared on the program a solo in English and vocal in which both were judged on equal terms. Competitors had to select their own text piece from the composition of Schubert, Schumann or Brahms.

The event was won by Mrs. Gordon Jones and Mrs. Greenwood McCall of this city, with 88 marks for their performance of Schubert's "El King." Second place was won by F. Richardson Lovell and Mrs. H. J. Norbury, with 85 marks for Schubert's "The Wanderer."

Mr. Greene gave the adjudication supplementary remarks on the piano work, written by Dr. Armstrong.

EASIER FOR MAN

The Ed King was easier for a man than a woman to sing. There was a slight overvaluation of the second syllable of the words—sung as "Gerny" and otherwise Mr. Greene was able to characterize Mrs. James' work as "thoroughly imaginative, dramatic singing."

The lyric soprano class was won by Mrs. F. C. Sutherland of Edmonton, with 170 marks, while second place went to Jessie Chapman, Calgary, with 168. Lena Mulholland, Edmonton, was third place with 165. Mr. Greene commended the soloists to pay more attention to the unaccented notes of their songs. He found most faulty in their treatment of the words and reminded them that the words were the key to any song.

The baritone solo event went to Ralph Penock of Calgary, with a score of 170 marks. Mrs. J. H. Edmondson, was second with 165. F. H. Turner and J. McCloy, Edmonton, was third, with 166.

Scoring 80 marks, Clement Schroeder and Mrs. Ida Lane won the soprano and tenor competition.

LADIES' TRIO

The ladies' trio was captured by Thora James, Mrs. Lucy Patterson and Kathleen Knights of Camrose, with 88 marks.

Georg McLand, Edmonton, captured the young tenor vocalist competition for contestants under 22 years of age, with 85 marks, while James Hamilton, Edmonton, was second with 78 marks.

States bank credit have been contracted 20 to 25 per cent. It is any wonder then that the real estate market has collapsed, that agriculture is nearly ruined, that manufacturers have ceased production and that there are bread lines of unemployed in the cities? The Way Back to Prosperity ness, commerce and agriculture profitable or unprofitable.

As the former center of world finance and the seat of operations of the most experienced international bankers, England has developed the system more highly than any other nation. Nevertheless, in the United States, France the power of the central banks over the life of the community is tremendous. Though the power exists, it is not always used, and when it is used it is used incorrectly or tardily. A case in point is the great market in the United States in the years before 1928, which was the American equivalent of inflation and which was terminated as dangerous by the governors of the Federal Reserve Banks and other financial leaders for a considerable period before the break. It was known that the prices of industrial and other securities were being forced up to fantastic and unhealthy heights.

Let me turn now to a British example of the working of the invisible government of finance and its effect on the fortune of millions of people, both in Great Britain and elsewhere. During the World War there was a tremendous expansion of currency and credits, in Great Britain as in the United States. Great Britain, despite the yield of high taxed up a debt of $40,000,000,000. Our industrial, mining and agricultural expansion and production were trebled. Money was cheap and plentiful and, despite certain privations due to the war, the standard of living of the working people and middle classes was considerably raised. Great Britain was able to finance her allies, later with the assistance of the United States, and to pour out an enormous volume of munitions and instruments of destruction for the waging of the war. The pound sterling was pegged to the dollar; that is, it was not allowed to rise in exchange value. And then the armistice brought about a standstill and a new situation.

The pound was upraised, in 1929 and fell from its parity of $4.86 to about $3.30. Nevertheless, trade was good. Most of the world was suffering from the depression of various manufacturers goods, and there was brisk demand for British products. But here was this tremendous equipment, more land under cultivation than at any time during the previous fifty years, and more ships sailing the seas under the British flag than before the war. Despite the slaughter on the battlefields, there were actually more persons engaged in mining, industry and agriculture than in 1913, which was a boom year.

The financial powers, faced with this problem, decided that there must be contraction, in other words, deflation; the pound sterling was to be forced back to parity with the dollar. The Chancellor of the Exchequer was Sir Austen Chamberlain, a credit though well-meaning man, with a rigid, orthodox mind. The Prime Minister was Lloyd George, engaged up to his eyes in the peace treaty negotiations. Chamberlain acquiesced in the deflation policy, and the long struggle began.

The bank discount rate was raised; credit was restricted; loans were called in and the Bank of England sold securities in the open market. This process continued for five years. The result was rapidly rising unemployment and increasing difficulties for industry, mining and agriculture. There was one very serious mining strike and a number of other industrial disputes.

In 1925 the pound sterling had risen on the international exchange, and a decision had to be reached as to whether Great Britain should return to the gold standard. Winston Churchill was now Chancellor of the Exchequer; under Mr. Baldwin as Prime Minister, Baldwin it was who had, when Chancellor of the Exchequer, made the British debt settlement with the United States. Obviously the higher the value of the pound in comparison with the dollar the easier it would be to meet the obligations under that settlement. Furthermore, the debts owed by France, Italy, Belgium and other countries to Great Britain were repayable in sterling, as is the interest on the $20,000,000,000 worth of foreign investments held by British private citizens and commercial and banking corporations all over the world.

The general public defied the strikers, who were never revolutionary and not well led, but the locked out miners continued to resist for another six months with increasing poverty and distress, while the country lost trade. It took a long time for British industry to recover from this blow. There was some kind of recovery in 1929, until the Harty bankruptcy upset the British market. To this blow was added the break in Wall Street. The Harty bankruptcy and many other failures in industrial countries were largely brought about by the deflation policy and the restriction of credit and banking accommodation as part of the policy of remaining on gold.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

On Tuesday announcement was made by Premier J. E. Brown of the readiness of the Dominion government to embark on a joint and settlement scheme with the provinces and municipalities, the subject of which would be to place on terms of their own men and objects now on the relief list.

Is such a scheme feasible and desirable? Will it cause the unemployment situation? Do you think it will benefit everyone now on relief?

These questions were asked today by The Inquiring Reporter. Here are the answers he received:

W. R. HOWSON, M.L.A., B.C. This is a scheme which warrants careful consideration. It might easily involve governments in big expenditures without doing what it is intended to do. Not every man is suitable for work.

Not every family can make good use of the money. It might be taken, if the right kind of men were chosen, men who have had experience and who might be expected to make good and reliable workers for the family.

It might be a reasonable thing to do, but it is not one that should be taken too lightly. It might be too heavily burdened with overhead expenditures.

Now Facing Trial For Manslaughter

Bernita McMahan

Courtroom Crowded As Nurse Arraigned as Result of Fatal Crash

A crowded courtroom including several young nurses, two of whom are supposed to be witnesses, marked the arraignment of Miss Bernita McMahan, a young nurse who is charged with manslaughter.

The accused, who is defended by A. R. Miller, was arraigned in a west courtroom, and was given permission by Mr. Justice Ford to occupy a chair by her counsel.

The charge arose out of the death of Miss Joyce Christianson, following injuries received on Sunday afternoon, April 18, in an automobile crash at Three Mile Crossing.

Miss McMahan was driving when the car in which she was riding crashed into the car of Miss Joyce Christianson. Miss McMahan was taken to the hospital.

The jury is composed of the following: J. J. Thompson, J. H. Brown, J. A. Lewis, all of Edmonton; M. J. Brown, of the city of Edmonton; J. A. Lewis, of the city of Edmonton; J. H. Brown, of the city of Edmonton.

PLANS PRODUCED. Henry Samuel, district agent of the public works department, has produced plans for the construction of a new road at Three Mile Crossing.

The plans show the road laid out on a considerably higher level than the present road. The road is to be 30 feet wide.

The witness also identified photographs of the crash, taken by the police. The witness said that she saw the crash from a distance.

Paid Him $125. On Monday evening Miss McMahan paid the $125 in settlement of the damage to her car. She said that she was sorry for the crash.

Did she say anything to you then? asked The Crown. "Yes," said the witness. "I said that I was sorry for the crash."

SENIOR LIBERALS READY FOR OPENING DAY

Grads Score Triumph Over Chicago Team in Calgary

SECOND HALF RALLY BEATS YANK CAGERS

EDMONTON

LIBERALS WILL OPEN SCHEDULE AGAINST CHAMPS

There's a lot of steam built up in the wings of the senior teams about the town today as baseball, going full throttle, the senior league season for the first time in the province. It's the start of another campaign for the senior leagues, and the fans are prepping themselves in order to be in the traditional vanguard of the sport.

The start of the new season was the senior league in a new setting in Diamond Park—a ball game with a more or less historic background—and this fact alone has created more interest than usual among the fans.

For the first year in a long spell the start of the season will be held regularly in the stadium of the senior amateurs when the league's campaign gets under way Thursday. Many a ball season has come and gone since the amateurs performed throughout a summer in the old park, but the stadium will be the scene of the season's first game.

It will be a homecoming for some of the ball players and a new experience for others, but they've all steamed up over the prospect of a new ball game in a field where it is possible to play good ball.

New faces will appear in new uniforms on all of the clubs and some of these newcomers have ideas that will help in little in saving the college of the league as a whole. They are players who have come from other ball fields, and their reputations and ability to back them up, and a few others who were under the ban of the amateur authorities for some slight indiscretion in the past who have since been reinstated to the amateur fold.

The good part of it is that these players are scattered among the teams of the league that should provide good baseball all the way for the folks who make it possible to have the game.

So there's nothing to do but to wait for the "play ball" cry to start the season.

Packed behind the telephone last night, your agent got a real, concrete idea of just how much interest there was in the senior exhibition game at Diamond Park.

And maybe there wasn't a hint of a yawn in the various ways in which their respective offices were informed that the grads were hitting ball at Diamond Park.

But there were relieved sighs as the grads fought to get in the third game of the season, and then second in with a 2-15 loss at the final.

Crowd of 3,000 Watches Grads and Americans in Exhibition
CALGARY, May 13.—Coach J. Percy Page's Edmonton Commercial Grads, world "ladies" basketball champions, scored a 37-18 triumph over Chicago Red Devils in an exhibition challenge game here last night to add still another victory to their long string.

A crowd that numbered close to 3,000 saw the champions triumph in a great display as they came from behind in the final two quarters and went on to a convincing victory over the team from south of the international border. The players of the early part of the game then disappeared and the fans watched a brilliant exhibition of the sport lasting all the way to the final whistle.

The match game started at a slow pace, with both teams showing the effects of the first half of the game. The players were tired but they showed extra energy to give the customers a thrill, and succeeded in the last 20 minutes when they took a series of exchanges that brought the capacity crowd to its feet and again the grads showed an edge over Chicago in nearly every stage of the game, but the Red Devils flashed brilliant play at times and had some of the better committing personal fouls. Three players retired to the bench with the maximum when the referee checked them closely.

Chicago gave a strong exhibition all the way closely backed by MacArthur and Belander, who handled most of the action. MacArthur showed his big skills at the front with many shooting that was as accurate as anything seen in the game.

On the Red Devils line, Kline, Kline and Kline were out-standing, with Kline making the plays well removed for personal fouls. Kline, Kline and Kline, provided somewhat opposition to the grads.

And varied her performance by scoring a few points of her own. In the last quarter, Kline was out with Chinese in command and tried to win the game only through their brilliant passing.

At the end of the first quarter the count was tied at Chicago ten and the grads ten.

Big Four Ball Game on Cards Here Tonight

Battery arctics for this game have not yet been announced.

Max Meets Gob
Max Schmeling next month makes his first ring appearance of the year when he takes on Jack Sharkey, the Boston boy. James Joy Johnson, the promoter, is coming on a million dollar sale, but it is unlikely the figures will even approach that estimate. The last time Sharkey met Max he killed him by fouling the German. This time both fighters will wear abdominal protection and, unless there is a knockout, the fans will see the full fight.

CHAMPION MAX SCHMELING
WILL HAVE THE ADVANTAGE OF ONE INCA IN REBUT BUT IN THE END IT WILL BE HIS OWN HEAVY BLOODS THAT COUNTS

Canuck Makes Impression on Seattle Coach
SEATTLE, May 13.—Coach Ed Edmondson, University of Washington track coach, took a look at the flying legs of Percy Williams, of Vancouver, B. C. Olympic games sprint champion four years ago, in his first visit here Tuesday.

"Don't count Williams out of the 100-yard race," Edmondson said later.

"He is a surprisingly good condition and may yet prove a worthy defender of his sprint title."

Williams, bothered the past two years by injuries, came here to train under Edmondson.

Senior Teams Start New Campaign in New Surroundings at Diamond Park—Many Newcomers Add Strength to Clubs
The ringing sound of ash on leather, flying spikes gliding in the sunlight, the roar of the leather lunged fan, the wall of the post and popcorn boy, descends on Diamond Park tomorrow night when the Young Liberals and South Side Athletics clash in the opening game of the Senior Amateur Baseball League season.

Starting time is called for six o'clock sharp and promptly at that hour the teams will swing into action.

NEW STARS WITH RIVAL SQUADS
The lineup of both clubs, studied with many newcomers who came heralded with ability to play ball, strikes a welcome note to league officials and the fans as a source of winning 1-2-3's.

Certainly the brand of ball is expected to surpass by considerable margin the calibre offered here during the past five years. Added to this is the pleasant anticipation of all the players that they will perform on a playing field that is second to none in Western Canada.

The playing end of the game is bound to improve when every athlete knows no mental hazard of running into a wall or of being hit with some treacherous fence or a flying ball into the infield.

Looking out for the fans, the Senior League executive have let no stone unturned in their efforts to supply comfort and courtesy to the lovers of the great summer pastime. Grandstand and bleachers have been scrubbed with soap and water, every man, woman and child can enjoy the game without having to look into a burning sun.

The road leading down to the Park is smoothly paved and getting space for hundreds of cars is available and easily obtained. Street car service from the North Side should take the people within a block of the Diamond.

HOLD WORKOUTS
The contesting teams ran through a fast workout last night. Uniforms were issued and the rival managers announced their starting batteries and lineups.

Manager Henry Loyer, who ever since the South Stars to a provincial championship last year, expects to run a powerful club on the field again.

Ernest "Buck" Eason, young, youthful right-hander, who played a major part in winning the National League in the Alberta series, is Manager Loyer's selection for the pitching role. Eason compiled an imposing record in the Senior League last year and expects to continue his pitching magic whenever he is called upon.

Phil Schram, a powerful, speedy boy, will receive Eason's support. Schram has been playing ball in and around Saskatoon and is expected to be a steady receiver with a strong throwing arm.

The infield is made up of Stan Hamby, a smooth-fielding second baseman, Dave Fenlon, hard hitting third base guard, and "Rory" Peck, a speedy shortstop.

The inner works will see Herb Speer or McCaw at first base, Ralph Nelson, second base, Hinchcliffe, shortstop, and Hugh John MacDonald, third base.

Patrolling the pickets will be Bill Dunlop at left field and Bill Lammie in right. Manager Drayton will have shortstop Shorty Fowler, who has been playing ball in the province, and John Letty Ducey will call the third base guard, and "Rory" Peck, a speedy shortstop.

CARDS RALLY IN FOURTH TO WIN
Pepper Martin Helps in Beating Braves

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—Louis Cardinals knocked out two doubles and a single in the third inning to score all the runs when they gave them a 4-3 win over Boston in the second game of the series. Pepper Martin, back in uniform again after an enforced absence due to a dislocated shoulder, accumulated a double, which brought in two runs in a single and a walk, while grounded out the fourth time at first base.

Brant and Spohrer, Hallahan and Mancuso.

Rossini, recently of Winnipeg, at the short field.

George Green will patrol centre field, and MacDonnell at the left field position and Earl Grant of Vancouver, in right.

John Sutherland, Tommy Seel, Ivan Thompson, Phil Enders and Ralph Pooner are the Athletics' remaining pitchers and Manager Loyer will have them in the bullpen ready to step into the breach should the occasion demand.

NEW LIBERAL TEAM
Manager Frank Drayton will introduce practically an entire new team to the crowd tomorrow night. The Young Liberals in the previous campaign enjoyed little success but this year they appear mighty formidable.

Drayton will send Red Tulek, fireballer, to the knoll, with Darryl McKinley, leading the big milt and mack. Tulek has a terrific fast ball, coupled with a darting curve that has had the batters guessing in all parts of the province. McKinley knows his stuff and has the actions of a real ball player.

The inner works will see Herb Speer or McCaw at first base, Ralph Nelson, second base, Hinchcliffe, shortstop, and Hugh John MacDonald, third base.

Patrolling the pickets will be Bill Dunlop at left field and Bill Lammie in right. Manager Drayton will have shortstop Shorty Fowler, who has been playing ball in the province, and John Letty Ducey will call the third base guard, and "Rory" Peck, a speedy shortstop.
